

Participation in class rooms

On September 27, 2007, GlobalQSS was invited by "Universidad Nacional de Colombia" (Bogota) , to participate creating awareness among students about other alternatives in computer applications of enterprise management

Being Adempiere a GNU package , it becomes a tool easily available to the entire student community. Our presentation went to Economy department (Business Administration, Accounting and Economics), who in the future when they are working as professionals, can provide a powerful and economical alternative to assemble and deploy computer management in a company.

Our proposal is to bring to classrooms knowledge of Adempiere and hopefully, in short term this knowledge becomes an additional subject in academic curriculum of schools , since this powerful program represents future RIGHT NOW and this mean preparing professionals ready to face changing business processes that lead us to give integral solutions and generating competition globally.
